Dear [REDACTED]

This will acknowledge your letter of 4 December 1950 regarding the "discrepancies" called to your attention by the Army Communications Center, Washington.

While we could send another letter to the Army reaffirming our requirement for quadruple spacing produced by two line feeds and two carriage returns at the end of each line of text, it is doubtful if it would produce any results. I believe that the daily check is a routine matter with them and the personnel making the check is not familiar with the requirements of the several agencies serviced. Therefore, I think that we had best do nothing at this time.

We will always be prepared to justify your failure to meet the requirements of JANAP if the Army makes an issue of it.

Sincerely,
